We deliver national service you can count on

We design and implement made-to-measure waste and recycling programmes, underpinned by honest, straightforward contract management.

Customer waste streams are handled by our hand-picked regional members, which are the market-leading independent waste operators in their respective locations. With a proven track record for outstanding service and continuous investment in the latest technology, our members are bound to our service standards to give you complete peace of mind.

We put your business first

We understand that your organisation needs to be cost efficient. We will work with you to devise the right solution to meet your operational needs and achieve ongoing cost improvement.

Our regional suppliers are subscribed members of NRC, so we aren't reliant on inflated profit margins. Local fulfilment of made-to-measure solutions means our customers are confident that their waste and recycling service from NRC represents best value.

We take a sustainable approach

NRC is committed to supporting customers to maximise their recycling and recovery rates. We divert around 98% of waste from landfill and recycle more than 40%. We can improve your organisation's sustainability and unlock the value in your resources.

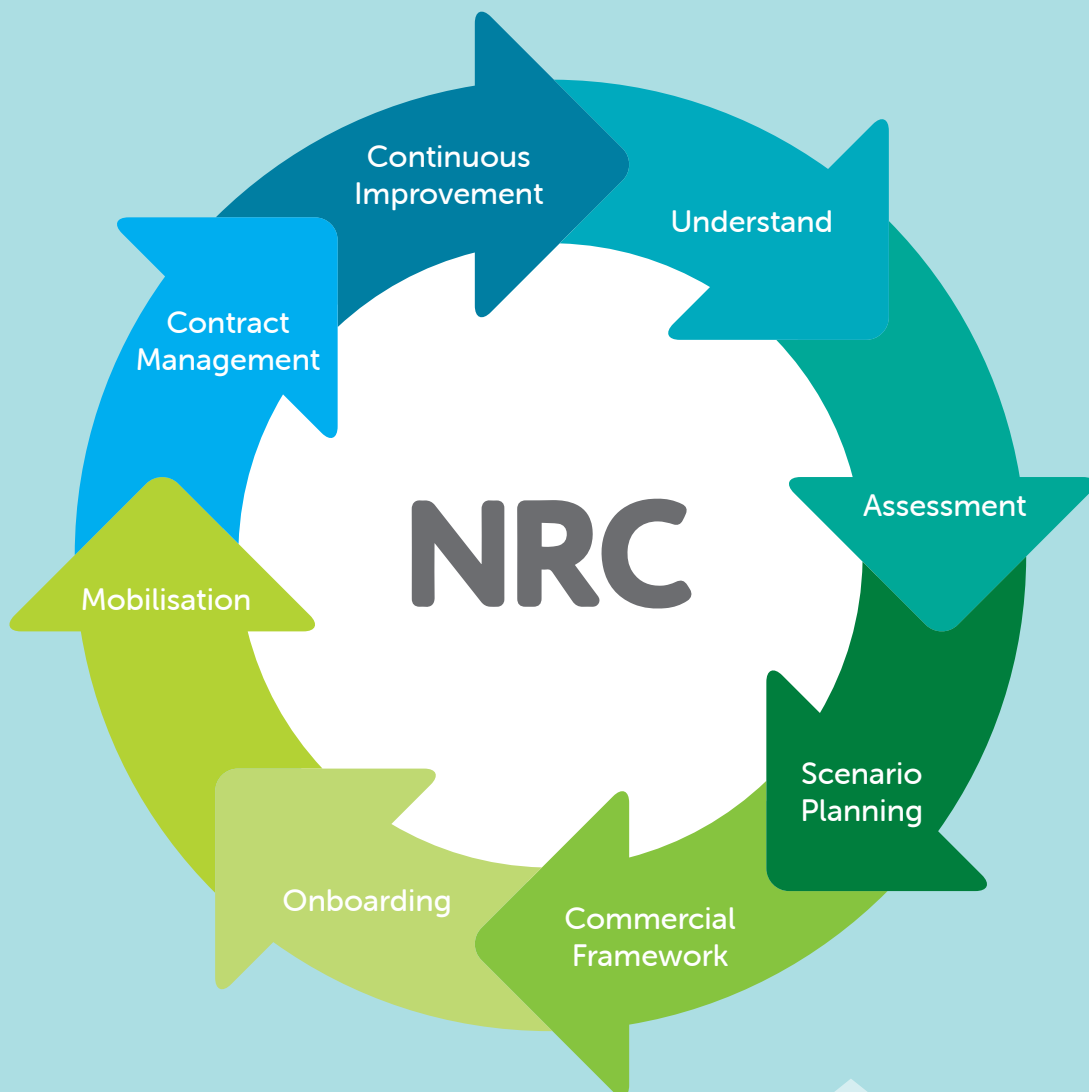

We're proud to contribute to sustainable economies across the UK. Our members receive service rates to meet their needs, re-investing profits into their regional businesses and supporting local jobs.

A MADE-TO-MEASURE RESPONSE

We work in partnership with every customer to:

1. understand their business and requirements in detail
2. plan the right system to meet the needs of every site
3. support staff at all levels through the change process
4. provide thorough reporting and analysis to deliver continuous improvement

Industry-leading expertise, advice and support.

Investment in the latest technology and continuous innovation.

Capacity to manage a wide range of waste and resource streams.

Unparalleled levels of recycling and landfill avoidance.

Flexible and responsive service and solutions.

Continual improvement supported by an entrepreneurial, problem-solving network.

ABOUT THE NATIONAL RESOURCE CONSORTIUM

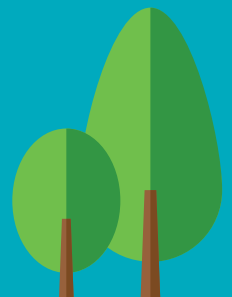

The National Resource Consortium (NRC) offers businesses and organisations across the UK a new approach to national waste and recycling management.

Our resource management network offers unrivalled waste collection and processing capacity, led by the UK's leading independent waste firms, whose combined expertise outstrips all other providers.

We are governed by the UK's most successful waste industry entrepreneurs and innovators. We are at the cutting edge of developing better waste and recycling solutions to benefit our customers. We are ahead of emerging issues and ideally positioned to advise our clients on their waste management strategy.

If you're tired of unreliable collections, unexpected charges, failed promises and poor communication, contact us to find out how we can solve your challenges.

When it comes to waste and recycling, one size doesn't fit all.
